Losses on Gallipoli
Peninsula.

(Special to The Herald)
London, Aug. 19.—British troops have sustained heavy losses at the Dardanelles. It was officially announced by Sir Ian Hamilton. The British commander reported that a strong force had been landed on Gallipoli peninsula at Soma Bay, but the progress of the troops had been brought to a standstill. Turkish troops also suffered heavily in the fighting following the arrival of British reinforcements.

The management of the Portsmouth Theatre is promising some more fine acts for the last three days of the week.

In her statement she had no other attitude than that of forgiveness. "It is all over," she said. "All we want is to be left alone."

CARRANZA TURNS DOWN PEACE OFFER OF UNITED STATES

On the Other Hand Villa and Zapata
Agree to the Proposal As Set Forth in Appeal of the Diplomats

GERMANY GIVES ASSURANCE TO GREECE

London, August 19.—The Exchange-Telegraph issued today a dispatch stating the Kaiser has telegraphed King Constantine of Greece to make no concession of Kavalla territory to Bulgaria, and pledges Greece in the event of an emergency the support of Austria and Germany.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Aug. 19.—Villa and Zapata accept, Carranza and his generals reject, the United States-Latin American peace council. That was the situation confronting the administration today.

Villa's acceptance was in the hands of his agents here. It agrees to the proposal as set forth in the appeal of the diplomats and it states that this was the object for which he, Villa, had been striving at all times.

The news that Carranza has rejected the appeal reached the state department through a confidential source. It was expected that official confirmation would be received from Consul John L. Silliman at Vera Cruz as soon as communication with that city is restored.

The Carranza rejection will be presented to the United States in a very polite note in which the disinterestedness of the United States and Latin-America will be recognized, but it will be stated emphatically that Carranza dominates more than 90 per cent of Mexico at the present time and that he can have nothing to do with the bandits and reaction army "who are the only ones now opposing him."

(Special to The Herald)
Liverpool, Aug. 19.—The White Star liner Arabic, the largest Trans-Atlantic steamer afloat since the destruction of the Lusitania, has been sunk by a German submarine. Announcement of the great steamship being destroyed was made here this afternoon. The Arabic's crew has been rescued.

The Arabic was sunk off the south coast of Ireland by a German submarine. It is believed that there was a number of Americans among the 175 passengers.

The news of the sinking was announced at 5 o'clock with the announcement from the crew was saved. Twenty-five minutes later the following message was received: "It is reported that some of the Arabic passengers are lost."

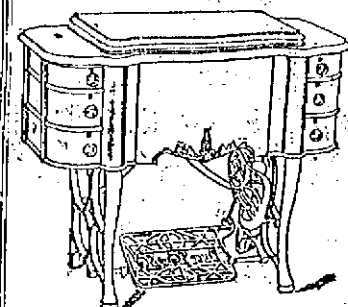

The Arabic sailed from Liverpool for New York at 6 o'clock last night. She carried a crew of 260 and 130 passengers in the cabin and 45 in the steerage.

The government announcement containing mention of only the crew and not of the passengers may be attributed to a recent ruling of the Admiralty.

(Special to The Herald)
Berlin, via wireless, August 19.—At a meeting called by the Reichstag to arrange for an additional war credit of $2,500,000,000, the Socialist members of the council decided to support the measure.

GALVESTON SURVIVES THE STORM

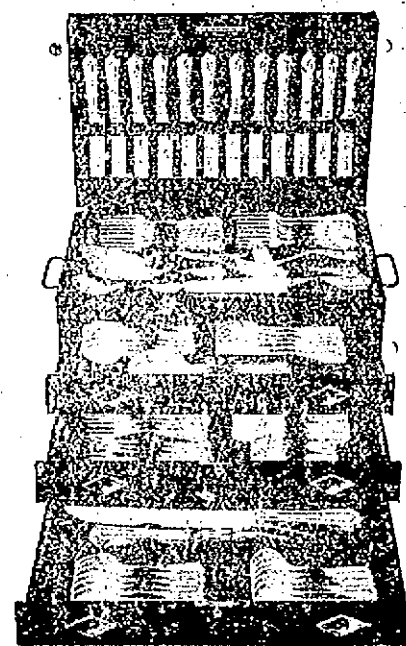

Death Toll as Far as Known
Is Thirty-Nine Persons.

(Special to The Herald)

Galveston, via Houston, Aug. 19.—Galveston has survived the worst storm in its history. The known loss is 39 lives, with a property loss of $15,000,000. The West Indian hurricane that blew up the Gulf coast from Sabine Pass to Mata Gorda bay had Galveston at its mercy for 24 hours and to its immense sea wall the city owes its salvation. Not a business house or private residence escaped without some damage and the property loss is enormous. The principal damage was along the wharves. The cotton piers all suffered, two elevators were damaged by the wind. Five ocean-going steamers are aground on Pelican Island and the U. S. transport McClellan is stuck there. Small craft were destroyed by the sea.

ATTACKED BY DOGS.

Mr. A. M. Gardner, while out riding his bicycle on the Rye boulevard was attacked by two dogs that belonged to an auto party from Massachusetts, which gave him quite a wound in the calf of his leg and tore his clothing, both pants and coat sleeves. He went to a physician at once and had the wound cauterized, and hopes the trouble will soon be over. He was careful to take the number of the machine and notified them what they should do at once.

Why Pay Extra for Dried-Up Tobacco?

That's what you do when you buy chopped-up tobacco in tins, bags or foil. Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid in both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

CAPTURE STRONGHOLD ON THE NIEMEN RIVER

Germans Storm Koven Forts, Russian Garrison Not Yet Taken—Italy Ready For War With Turks

London, Aug. 18.—Kovno, the important fortress on the Niemen, near the confluence of the Sveta and the Viliya, has been stormed by the Germans. This victory of General Eichorn or von Hindenburg, places that portion of the right flank of the Russian army north of the Sveta in imminent danger, as the Germans are now able to cross the Niemen.

The official German statement of yesterday announced the capture of the forts on the southwest front of Kovno, together with 4500 prisoners and 240 guns. This was interpreted as foreshadowing the fall of the fortress proper, but its accomplishment so speedily was hardly expected. Field Marshal von Hindenburg may have been in command of the army taking Kovno. But though Eichorn has been in immediate charge of the operations there, it has been reported that German's national hero had been sent to Kovno, indicating the importance attached to it by the German general staff.

Kovno is a unit of a line of fortresses running from the Niemen south and east connected by railroad. On this line are Grodno, Brest-Litovsk and Lutsch. The capture of Kovno raises the question whether the Russians will be able to retain this line, or whether they will again be compelled to make a general retreat. Retention of the remaining positions on this front might expose the Russians to the danger of a flanking movement. The next line to which they might be expected to fall back runs from Vilna, about fifty miles east of Kovno, through Lida, Baranovitchi and Pinsk to Rowno. This line is about 300 miles long. The rapidity of the German advance since the fall of Warsaw on Aug. 5, is indicated by the fact that they are within thirteen miles of Brest-Litovsk, which lies about 113 miles east of the captured Polish capital. The line to which they may now be compelled to fall back is about 200 miles east of Warsaw. Kovno is 350 miles southwest of Petrograd, the possibility of an advance against which is now being considered in Russia and England. Surrounding the fortress proper at an average distance of two and one-half miles, is a circle of forts, eleven in number. The town lies for the most part in the fork formed by the junction of the Niemen with the Viliya and is guarded by strong defenses. Kovno, capital of the Russian province of that name, is on the right bank of the Niemen. It is a fortress of the first class. The civilian population of the city is more than 75,000. At the time of the fall of Warsaw the Austro-German forces in Russia were operating in three large divisions. From the south Field Marshal von Mackensen pressed into Poland with the troops with which he had successfully swept through Galicia, recapturing the province from the Russians. From the west Prince Leopold of Bavaria advanced directly at the Warsaw front. From the north came the forces of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, advancing through the Baltic provinces. After Warsaw was captured a junction was effected between the army groups of Mackensen and Leopold. The capture of Kovno probably will result in welding the northern and central German forces into a consolidated line from Baltic provinces to Galicia.

BELGIANS HOLD BRIDGE HEAD

London, Aug. 18.—The French War Office this afternoon gave out the following statement on the progress of hostilities, reading as follows:

"Last night passed in relative quiet along the greater part of the front. There has been reported only artillery engagements in the sections to the north of Arras and between the river Somme and the river Oise; in the region of Roye, and in the vicinity of Landungy.

"There was fighting yesterday with bombs and hand grenades in the Argonne at Haute-Chevannes, at Fontaine-aux-Charmes, and in the forest of Cheppy. Our bombardment yesterday of the German positions near the Linge destroyed two heavy batteries and caused the explosion of several depots of ammunition.

"On the crest of the Sondernach two fresh and violent counter attacks during the night against the position taken by us yesterday were completely repulsed, and we made about fifty prisoners."

Several Portsmouth men were in Boston yesterday to attend the opening of the Braves' new baseball park.

IMPORTANT STRATEGIC BRIDGE IN BELGRADE AND GUNS DEFENDING CITY FROM AUSTRO-GERMANS

Belgrade, Servia, Aug. 18.—There seems no doubt that the next big attempt of the Austro-Germans in the offensive against the allies will be by way of Servia. This capital is again under bombardment. It is said that at least 350,000 men have been mobilized on the borders of the Little Balkan nation. The Servians, who are prepared for almost any eventuality, having massed all available troops on the Hungarian frontier, replied to this bombardment by opening a heavy fire on the Hungarian towns of Semlin and Panesova, both within long range distance of batteries placed on the Servian side of the Danube and the river Save. At this the Austrian guns ceased firing. Slight damage was caused to private dwellings in all three places. The Austrian bombardment was apparently intended to terrify the Belgrade population and to reveal the position of Servian batteries in that vicinity by drawing their fire. The presence of considerable Austro-German forces across the river from Belgrade, however, indicates in the minds of military observers that the Austro-German operations against Servia are to consist of two simultaneous campaigns. One—a repetition of the original Austrian campaign against Servia last fall—will have as its object the occupation of Belgrade, while the other, the main movement, will be an attempt to throw an army of overwhelming strength across the northeast corner of Servia from Orsova, Hungary, as a center, to Bulgaria and thence to Turkey.

BRITISH OFFICER LAMENTS HIS DEAD AND WOUNDED MEN

London, August 18.—In a letter to his parents a British captain gives details of French warfare which touched his heart. He writes:

"I had to face the first casualties in my own command and I may say it is far the most trying part of soldiering, and one to which I shall never get fully used. First they shot a lad of mine, right next to me. He showed himself an instant to fire over the parapet and was instantly shot right through the head. It took me a moment to realize what had happened. He just crumpled up quite slowly in my arms, bleeding dreadfully. His death must have been a terrible pain."

"The next day we were seriously in action and the battalion lost quite heavily. I took great precautions with my command, and had already improvised a dressing station of my own, as the trenches were far too narrow to have stretchers, and it was out of the question to attempt to pass wounded out of the lines during the engagement."

"It is well I took these precautions as early in the bombardment began to fall. I was just bandaging my lad's head myself and he lying in the trench with his head on my lap when a high explosive shell burst so close to us that everybody near called out, 'Captain's gone!' I was so low in the trench however that though covered and stained quite yellow with fumes I was untouched, but alas, it blew one of my men to bits literally and cruelly wounded three others. Before 1 a. m. my little dug-out in the trench was full of wounded, and I suppose I was almost as busy with them as I was with the garrison of the trench."

"Fortunately I had laid in a good store of bandages, etc., and my medical chest had some morphine, which I administered to the worst cases. I had also a constant supply of simple nourishment and so kept them going in fair comfort till dawn, when we evacuated them by means of waterproof sheets with relative ease, and so got them to the ambulance about a mile away."

"It was very exhausting work from first to last; but I was complimented on the way I ran the trench, and I attribute such success as we had that night to having made preparation beforehand for every eventuality, to giving every man a post (as if he were on board ship) and to seeing that all my men as well as myself, had proper food and sleep whilst we inhabited the trenches."

"To this must be ascribed too, the fact that we had no sickness in my command, although we found the trenches (when we took them over) in a bad condition, particularly as regards unburied corpses of German and English soldiers who had fallen into the danger zone between the two lines of trenches. These we ran the risk of burying by night (under fire) in quick time."

"I personally was quite well and much interested in the whole thing, but pained by the losses in good men we had to suffer."

"The enemy had their own bill to pay for all this, however, and since we vacated the trench our offensive has been pushed a bit further home. One German sharpshooter was shot just as he lay in the long grass and death took him swiftly. What was curious was that he never moved either when shot or afterwards. No one came to bury him, and he lay day after day in the open, in the very cold and stretched out for firing. One night the enemy used poisonous gas shells—very distressing for the eyes—for some hours, but our respirators, etc., prevented any ill effects."

SERGEANT OF BELGIAN ARMY MADE ESCAPE

Paris, August 17.—A sergeant in the Belgian army, now in Paris for a few days' leave has been three times wounded, has been taken prisoner, has escaped, and has been reported dead from Belgian headquarters.

The last time he was wounded he was also taken prisoner with a number of companions. His wound being slight he was compelled to march to a temporary camp behind the Russian lines. The journey occupied about 3 days during which time the prisoners were given no food and had to exist on a little chocolate and biscuits which they had in their knapsacks.

After being at this camp for two days they were entrained for Germany. The sergeant however had made up his mind to escape and before they crossed the frontier he jumped from the moving train. He fell in some long grass, and escaped with nothing more than a severe shaking.

The German escort on the train immediately began to fire him, but by dashing across a field in a zig-zag course and occasionally throwing himself on the ground, he got away without being hit.

When he returned to the Belgian lines he found that he had been reported as dead, as he has now in his possession the official intimation sent to his parents to this effect.

FRENCH SPY DISGUISED AS WOMAN

Munich, August 17.—A fashionably dressed woman who was traveling to Switzerland made herself suspected by her action at Lindau on Lake Constance a few days ago. Her passports were in order and her baggage was promptly passed by the customs officials, but she showed such nervousness that an officer felt justified in placing her under arrest.

When the officer approached her she suddenly drew a revolver from her pocket and fired a bullet into her brain. The "lady" was a French spy who had traveled all over Germany disguised as a woman.

MOTHER HAS TEN SONS IN THE FIELD

Vienna, August 17.—Mrs. Aloisia Dreier, a poor peasant woman of Spital in Carina, has been granted 30 kroners a month by the Austrian Aid Society. The old lady has sent ten sons to the front. Eight of them are now fighting in Poland and on the Isonzo, and two are prisoners of war in Russia. She is a helpless invalid and was starving when neighbors brought her sufferings to notice.

Profit-Sharing with Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914, we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1916, we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $10 to $50 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-1915 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date. We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars delivered during August, September and October, 1915.

Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, August 19, 1915.

A Welcome Announcement.

Thinking men will receive with satisfaction the announcement that The Forum is to begin next month the publication of a series of articles by some of the most eminent men in this country on one of the grave and growing evils of the time, namely, the tendency toward excessive legislation and the consequent increase in the army of officials who live at the expense of the tax payers, and many of whom render very small returns for what they draw from the public funds. Among those who will contribute articles are ex-President Taft, United States Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, President Butler of Columbia University, President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard University, ex-Ambassador David Jayne Hill and others equally able and prominent.

The articles will be designed to show that this country is gradually, if not rapidly, approaching European conditions in the matter of maintaining what may be called a ruling class. Laws and officials are multiplying so rapidly and public expenditures are increasing so fast that the time is not far distant when the conditions will be burdensome if the drift continues. In fact, the burden is already distinctly felt, but the people do not seem to be aware of the cause, and their clamor for laws to regulate everything under the sun is largely responsible for their increasing burden.

It is not probable that this discussion, able as it will be, will at once change a condition that is becoming troublesome if not oppressive, yet it should result in substantial good. It should fix public attention upon a tendency that is clearly in the wrong direction, and with the public awake to the evil the foundation will have been laid for steps to check it.

This paper has in the past pointed out the danger of over-legislation, and it hails with satisfaction the coming agitation against it from such high and trustworthy sources. The men who are to discuss this subject will know whereof they speak. It will be facts which they will lay before the public, and not guess-work and theory.

It is time for a sober consideration of this matter. Legislation has become a habit in this country—it might almost be said to have become a passion—and the alarming increase of officials is but a natural sequence. It is time to call a halt, and if the coming discussion results in such a step it will have performed a very valuable service for the people of the United States.

It is estimated that the money of American tourists that has been kept out of Europe by the war amounts to about $25,000,000. But what a harvest there will be after the war is over. When normal conditions are restored there will be a rush of travelers who will put money in circulation at a rate that will be highly gratifying and beneficial to the distracted peoples of the war area.

If the United States and South America can talk the Mexicans out of their foolishness they will do well. But the Mexicans are pretty fair talkers themselves, as well as stubborn fighters, and the outcome of the talking match is by no means certain, with the chances in favor of failure. It is to be feared that Mexico likes rioting too well to be subdued by the reading of the riot act.

The governor of Massachusetts is a bachelor as well as a democrat, and one of the republican candidates for nomination to that office is also unmarried. But this fact is hardly important enough to constitute an issue, although a few newspaper communications on the subject have made their appearance.

Now Chicago wants an army training camp like that at Plattsburg, N. Y. If enough of these schools are established there will be no lack of officers when the pinch comes. But what the people want to know is, who is going to do the fighting?

The clambake and picnic season is waning, but there are frequent evidences that it is not yet gone. Fall is fast approaching, however, and the pleasures and discomforts of the dog day season will soon be things of the past.

War is expensive behind the lines as well as at the front. A dispatch from Paris says France has expended $384,000,000 in taking care of the wives and families of soldiers since the beginning of hostilities.

The Cater and Deater families held a reunion in New Hampshire the other day. It ought to have been a good time also for the caterers.

Cheer up, ye who are wont to complain of the cost of living. Codfish has been placed on the free list.

CURRENT OPINION

Women Not Yet Ready to Make Wise Use of the Ballot.

Women are sacrificing too much in forcing the issue. I honestly think that, though we gain the vote by these brass band means, the real woman's issue will be hurt.

I pay sincere tribute to the advertising and organizing ability the women have shown in their campaign. They have been wonderful.

But, you see, my distress lies in my deep conviction that it is all too soon. We aren't ready. I believe in education and not agitation.

Oh, yes; I know that men aren't entirely adequate to be governing, but they have experience, and I'd trust their inadequacy sooner than I would women's inadequacy. I don't have the faith in woman's competence, you see. I believe in the competence of the competent woman, yes. And I think that all women will gradually learn to do more things well. But just now, no.

Perhaps this doesn't sound as though I believe in women. But I very much do. Only I want to see them go about their affairs wisely, courageously, constructively. And I want them to be sure just what their affairs are. And when the vote comes, as it should in time, I shall be the last one to neglect it.—By Miss Charlotte Rudyard, Editor and Writer.

POLITICAL PENCILINGS

A striking example of the "spork-barrel patriotism" which guides the ruling minds in the Democratic party, is to be found in a recent interview with Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house committee on military affairs. Mr. Hay makes it known that he is opposed to an enlargement of the army that he believes unnecessary and costly, and that he thinks the country is by no means devoid of defence now. His language also leads to the inference that he is peeved because he has not been called to consult with the war department on the subject of national defence.

Mr. Hay is one of the school of statesmen—dominant in the South, and by the same token dominant in the Democratic party—who plainly believes that it is better to spend $100 millions for "improvements" to insignificant creeks and bays in the Southern states than to spend the same sum for fortifications and for guns and soldiers to man them. He regards the present pressure for adequate military preparedness as newspaper clamor, and he sternly refuses to be swayed by it.

In this, Mr. Hay is more consistent than is the President, who has been clearly moved by "newspaper clamor" and who is making a virtue of necessity by trying to plan for a new military policy. At heart we have no doubt the President thinks exactly as Mr. Hay in opposition to "militarism." The President has seen a new light. An election is coming and he is trying to shape his course accordingly. Mr. Hay does not have to consider any questions of this sort. A Virginia Democrat, he is in sure of re-election and he refuses to play the President's game. And the entire episode is illuminating proof of the lack of teamwork in the Democratic party and of the inability of looking to that party for constructive patriotism in legislation. Happily the return of progressive Republicanism to power is not far distant. We hope it may not come too late for forgetting properly with this question of national defence—wherein the President plainly plays a game of political expediency while Mr. Hay of Virginia maintains the ancient Democratic doctrine of ignoring the nation's needs.

In the last issue of his "Commoner" Mr. Bryan tells his readers that those people who look upon his resignation from the cabinet as a prelude to a complete break with the Wilson administration are doomed to disappointment. His assurances are evidently designed to dispel anxiety at the White House. Such might be their effect but for the fact well known to President Wilson, as to all the American people that W. J. Bryan went to the Baltimore convention carrying direct and specific instructions from the people of Nebraska to do all in his power to secure the nomination of Champ Clark and at the critical moment after Clark had gained a majority of the delegates Bryan violated his obligations and betrayed his constituents by turning his support to Wilson and condemning Champ Clark to slaughter. Mr. Bryan's words are belied by his performance. President Wilson remembers what happened to Champ Clark's "Ifam" dog.

In a recent trip over the state highway from this city to Oskipee it was noted with pleasure the elegant thoroughfare through perhaps some of the best scenery to be found anywhere. But what puzzled were the short gaps in the macadam on each side of the right of way of the railroad crossings. If the railroads are not responsible for the condition of the highway bordering the crossings, it seems as if the state was at fault in leaving such blotches in an otherwise fine job. How about this, Mr. Road Superintendent? No need of signs announcing your approach to a railroad crossing.

Considerable criticism has been made of the stretch of road at Noble's Island, but, oh my! just take a ride over the Newtonington bridge. If that piece of road on the Dover Point side don't bump your springs! It seems to me as if someone was lax in not having these bad pieces of road remedied.

THE PORT OF PROFIT

Lincoln used to tell a story of a Mississippi river steamboat that had a four-foot boiler and a "seven-foot" whistle. Every time the boat blew its whistle it stopped. Its steamboat was great on "attention getting" but poor on progress. The advertising steamboat has lost interest in the mere noise of whistles. Its owners have ceased to measure results by sound. They are insisting that quick transit to the Port of Profit is to be their test of efficiency. And so advertisers are turning to newspapers for their voyage to the desired harbor.

GOVERNOR WILL OFFER REWARD FOR LYNCHERS

Georgia Executive Plans to Bring Frank Slay to Justice.

Atlanta, Ga., August 18.—R. E. Davison, chairman of the state prison commission announced tonight that the identity of the members of the mob might be disclosed through a pair of handcuffs left on the wrists of J. M. Burke, superintendent of the prison farm. Mr. Davison said they bore the serial number of the manufacturer, and that he had been informed the names of the original purchasers could be obtained by this means.

Plans for investigating the abduction and lynching of Leo M. Frank went forward steadily today.

"The lynching will be probed to the bottom and every effort within my power will be made to bring the guilty members of the mob to justice. At the proper time, I will offer rewards for the arrest and conviction of the men, and I will urge the judge, the solicitor and the sheriff to make diligent efforts to apprehend them."

Governor Harris will have a conference with the three members of the state prison commission tomorrow. Each of the commissioners was in the home of Warden Smith the night that Frank was taken away. They had been making a regular inspection of the prison. The governor hopes to obtain information from the commissioners and possibly some of the prison officials who were overpowered that will lead to the identification of some of the lynchers. Only a few members of the gang were masked.

Stories represented as coming indirectly from "men who knew" recited details of the actual lynching increased in numbers today.

Each of the accounts indicated that Frank was not harmed on the trip from Milledgeville to the lynching scene and that he faced death in the full realization of the intentions of the gang. The notable feature of these accounts is that in all but one, it is represented that Frank maintained to the end that he was innocent.

DEATH LIST AND PROPERTY LOSS IN TEXAS STORM GROWING

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 19.—Direct word from the storm-swept communities on the southeast Texas coast is bringing details of the tropical hurricane which put Galveston, Houston, Texas City and scores of other towns in dire peril.

With large sections of the district yet unheard from, the death list was more than 100, the heaviest reported loss being from Virginia Point, opposite Galveston. The property damage may exceed $30,000,000, with Galveston contributing half that amount.

According to information available last night the deaths were recorded as follows:

Virginia Point, 30; Texas City, 18; Galveston, 14; Morgan's Point, 11; Hitchcock, 7; LaPorte, 7; Port Arthur, 3; Lynchburg, 3; Sylvan Beach, 3; Seabrook, 3; Houston, 2.

Property loss estimates were vague except in a few instances. Some of the estimates follow:

Galveston, $15,000,000 or more; Houston, $2,000,000; Texas City, $400,000; Port Arthur, $200,000; Seabrook, $100,000; Sabine, $100,000; Sabine Pass, $100,000; Kemah, $50,000.

In addition there was an enormous loss to cotton growers in the storm belt, some estimates stating that 25 per cent of the crop of central Texas was destroyed, and placing the loss at "millions of dollars." The oil fields also suffered severely, and it is probable that it will take $500,000 to replace destroyed derricks, recap unrooded tanks and repair damaged machinery.

That the death list did not approach that of the storm of 1900, was due to two causes, the strength of the Galveston sea wall and the haste with which residents of the coastal plains sought places of refuge in conformity with the warnings of the government weather bureau.

Galveston, as in 1900, bore the brunt of the storm, but this year was lucked against the elements. The storm reached its height there at 3 a. m. Tuesday when the wind rose to 22 miles an hour. This was eight miles an hour more than the weather bureau recorded for the 1900 visitation.

The most pressing need of Galveston, Texas City and other coast towns, which faced the full sweep of the wind, is drinking water. Galveston's supply was brought from a point several miles inland, the mains crossing to the island over the causeway which connected the city with the mainland.

When the waves and storm-tossed vessels in the harbor breached the causeway, the water supply was shut off.

At Texas City, Major General Bell reported to the war department that the reservoirs were flooded with salt water.

and mud. Food was growing scarce in both places and lighting systems and street cars were out of commission.

Concentration of United States regulars on the Mexican border was a contributing cause to the death list. Four soldiers were drowned in Galveston and ten were lost at Texas City. The Fort Crockett camp was wiped out and the army transports McClellan and Poe damaged. Martial law was proclaimed in Galveston and Texas City and the latter place large sanitary corps was organized by the military authorities.

Port Arthur was hit hard by the storm, but only four of its residents lost their lives. The exodus from that city was unusually prompt. Beaumont reported that hundreds had come there. Sabine and Sabine Pass were reported as "deserted and submerged."

News of the day and early night was not entirely reassuring to marine interests. The steamer Annapolis weathered the blow and arrived safely at Key West, and a schooner, the Acorn, whose crew had been rescued by steamers, was towed into the same port. On the other hand, the United Fruit company's liner Marowajne, with a large passenger list failed to report her whereabouts. The boat left Belize, Honduras, Friday and was due in New Orleans Monday afternoon. It was thought that she encountered the full force of the hurricane and word from her was awaited with anxiety.

An idea of the damage done along the Gulf front of Galveston is given in a dispatch dated Dallas. All the city's resort bath houses and beach amusements have been swept away. Three of the largest bath houses were demolished and heaped upon the boulevard in debris. Shops, booths, dancing pavilions, restaurants, hotels and summer cottages along the beach boulevard are reported to have been destroyed.

State, federal and municipal authorities in Texas all have started measures for relief.

At Texas City the army men have opened a temporary hospital in a hotel to care for sick and wounded and students, blankets and commissary stores as without the storm were distributed to civilians and soldiers alike. Martial rule was in force there and in Galveston.

Texas state authorities started from Austin to investigate the needs of the coast, and the mayor of Waco called a mass meeting of citizens to pledge contributions of food, clothing and money. Despite the extensive damage at Galveston, however, the mayor of that city announced that it would get aid from outside sources.

SUMMER PEOPLE ARE SHOCKED

Claim Women Posing Nude for Artists on the Rocks at Ogunquit.

The following news dispatch relative to posing of nude models for artists in the conservative village of Ogunquit will be interesting reading to residents and summer residents of York county shore resorts to wit:

"The Maine summer colony at Ogunquit professes to be shocked. Women have been posing nude for art classes on the Perkins Cove rocks. The art teacher admits that a model has twice posed, undraped, both times when he was absent from his class. At all other times he says, the models have worn clothing."

Most of the blame for the talk which now premeates the resort is laid at Old Father Neptune's door. The artist explains that "the art classes, which are held on Perkins Cove ledges, were forced, together with the model, to make a high point on the rock by the encroachment of the tide. From the higher point the model and the students could be seen from some of the neighboring cottages and nimble tongues soon spread the story broadcast. It has caused animated chattering on verandas all along the shore."

Also Ogunquit lobstermen, playing their humble craft on the nearby waters have been distracted. Wives of the lobstermen think that model gazing is no part of a respectable lobsterman's business and they don't hesitate to say so.

There was so much talk in Ogunquit last year that it is said the 1914 model left with the declaration that she wouldn't ever come back to such a town.

A 1915 model was Baroness von Freytag of Germany. Her husband, Lieut. von Freytag, has been reported a French captive. Another model has succeeded the baroness.

On three sides of Perkins Cove are cottages of summer residents, many of national fame. Other cottages occupy cottages in other parts of the town or patronize the Ogunquit hotels.

Among the cottagers or hotel patrons of the community are such as President de Witt Hyde of Bowdoin College, President William F. Stoenum of the College of Colorado, President E. T.

Ware of Atlanta University, John Kendrick Banks, the humorist; Victor D. Brenner, the artist, who put the Indian on the nickel; Charles H. Woodbury, the marine artist; Judge Fred A. Maynard of Michigan; J. Mosen Perkins; B. R. Hoyt, and F. M. Jacobs.

DOVER MAN CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME

Frank Finnerty Is Held in $1,000 Bonds for Murderous Assault.

Frank Finnerty was tried in the Dover police court on Wednesday for breaking and entering in the daytime and attempt to assault Florence Bassett, with intent to kill.

Mrs. Bassett testified that on the afternoon of May 19 last, she and her daughter Florence were in the kitchen when they heard a noise in the cellar. She then heard footsteps on the cellar stairs. Her daughter ran upstairs just as Finnerty opened the cellar door. He had a loaded revolver and had it pointed at her. She ran screaming out of the house and around upon the piazza of the tenement owned by Charles Thompson, Finnerty following her until she went into the house. This is the last which she says she saw of Finnerty.

Edward Hayes testified that he was painting a fence when he heard Mrs. Bassett scream, and also said that Finnerty asked him if he had seen Florence Bassett. It also came out in testimony that Miss Bassett had been keeping company with Finnerty for nearly two years, and that Finnerty had a wife and child living in Portland, Me. It also appeared that Finnerty and Miss Bassett had an argument shortly before he appeared at the house with a revolver.

Judge William F. Nason found probable cause to hold him for the grand jury, which will set the first Tuesday in September, and fixed his bonds at $1,000.

FIREBUG GIVES DERRY A SCARE

Police Say They Caught Edward Dion in the Act of Setting a Fire.

(Special to The Herald)

Derry, Aug. 18.—This town was in an uproar all night on account of eight incendiary fires in succession which ended today in the arrest of Edward Dion, a well known young man whom the police say they caught in the act of setting a fire.

Attempts were made to destroy the Hotel Bradford full of sleeping guests, and twice during the night they fled from their rooms when the hotel was set on fire. Five attempts were made to fire the Whitney block on West Broadway.

Circumstantial evidence was strong against Dion from the first, but it was decided to keep a close watch on his movements, with the hope of being able to take him in the act. Dion roomed in No. 12 of the Whitney block, and was naturally well posted as to the building. His room was near the bath room on the second floor to the west.

His first evident move was to turn kerosene oil over a lot of stuff in or close by the bath room, but this time he did not touch the match, as the room of the janitress was directly opposite and occupied. Later, just outside the bathroom oil was again used; this was fired, an ironing board was considerably burned, and some clothes hanging over it were also destroyed, while the casing was badly charred before the blaze was extinguished.

Just before 6 last evening a blaze was started in front of Max Fish's door, an oily paper having been dropped on the mat in front of it; this was promptly discovered by Quinby, a roomer in the block, who was just going out on the street, and was subdued without damage. Another effort was made to fire the building, by placing kerosene on the floor of the east corridor, on the same floor, and near to the baseboard. This, however, did not get enough start to cause any damage through being promptly discovered.

PISCATAQUA PIONEERS HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Officers of Association Elected and History of the First English Settle- ment Reviewed

Edgar A. Leighton of Somersworth was elected to the office of president of the Piscataqua Pioneers at the annual meeting, which was held here and at York yesterday. The other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, Hon. Frank B. Sanborn, Concord, Mass.; Mrs. Florence A. Crane, Des Moines, Iowa; Oliver Remick Grant, New York city; Col. Daniel Hall, Dover; Miss Mary B. Safford, Kittery; William Hale, M. D., Gloucester, Mass.; and Mrs. George Fernald, Worcester, Mass.

The board of directors is the same as last year, Albert H. Lamson, Ellington; J. L. M. Willis, M. D., Eliot; Charles A. Hazlett, Portsmouth; Alexander Dennett, Kittery; and John Seales, Dover; being re-elected for another year.

Alexander Dennett was re-elected treasurer and Albert H. Lamson re-elected secretary, while Mr. Lamson was also re-elected curator for another year.

The meeting opened here at the First National Bank building and adjourned to the town hall at York at 11:00 o'clock. About sixty-five members of the association were present at the meeting, and at noon they were served a substantial luncheon by the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church at York.

During the session Mr. Hazlett of this city delivered a short historical address to the members on "Georgiana," the original name of the town of York, which was the first incorporated English settlement on the American continent. The Rev. Frank Sewall of Washington, D. C., who has his summer home at York Harbor, gave an historical address on "Coventry Hall." Both addresses were ably delivered, and thoroughly enjoyed by the members.

The afternoon was given over to auto trips to the various points of interest in the vicinity. Among the places of interest visited were the Wilcox Tavern, the Old Jail, the Melrose Garrison, the Perkins and the home of the Rev. Mr. Sewall.

The members of the Piscataqua Pioneers passed a resolution, giving the town a vote of thanks for its kindness and courtesy in allowing them the use of the town hall free of charge and other favors granted.

A vote of thanks was also given to the Village Improvement Society for admittance to the old jail, and the various residents for opening their houses for inspection by the members.

RESCUED DROWNING STRANGER

JOHN STEWART PULLED DOVER MAN FROM RIVER WEDNESDAY

Thomas Holland, aged 57, of 47 Portland street, Dover, was pulled out of the waters of the Piscataqua river late yesterday afternoon by John Stewart of this city. Holland, who had been drinking rather heavily, wandered down to the wharf used by the Piscataqua Navigation Company, and in some manner unknown, fell into the water.

Stewart heard the calls for help and looking over the edge of the pier, saw the man in the water, clinging to one of the piles. Stewart secured a line which was thrown to the man, and after several minutes Holland was pulled to the wharf and safely. He was in a very exhausted condition and the services of Dr. Pender were required before he was pronounced out of danger.

Word was sent from one of the Market street stores, and in a few minutes the pulmotor from the Portsmouth Gas Company was brought to the scene. Dr. Pender had already worked over the man and the pulmotor was not needed. Holland was taken to the police station for the night.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Portsmouth People Know How to Save It.

Many Portsmouth people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Portsmouth citizen's recommendation.

Albert W. Dunlap, 17 School St., Portsmouth, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for years and my back often became so sore and painful that I could scarcely get about. I had other symptoms which left no doubt in my mind that my kidneys were disordered. I finally resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills at Phillips' Pharmacy and through their use, every symptom of the trouble disappeared. I willingly confirm the endorsement I have previously given Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dunlap had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Note what Goodyear users get this year on tires in smaller sizes.

We have added 20 per cent to the capacity. That adds immediately to your riding comfort, safety, the blowouts and overloading that came to smaller tires.

We have added 30 per cent to the rubber in the side walls, where constant bending breaks so many tires.

We have made new molds—changed the whole design—because of newly-discovered ways to add to the tires' endurance.

These improvements will cost us this year $317,000 extra.

Yet this year also brought to Goodyear users an enormous price reduction, making 45 per cent in two years.

Note that Goodyear tires, as made before, won top place in Tiredom. Never has another tire won so many users.

It is these tires—proved the best tires built—which we have bettered this year in every way that experts know.

"SHORE DINNER" TONIGHT AT THE YACHT CLUB

An old-fashioned "shore dinner" will be given by the members of the Portsmouth Yacht Club at the club this evening, complimentary to Rear Commodore Charles S. Browne of San Diego, Cal., formerly of this city, who is now visiting here, and who has been spending much of his time at the club. Mr. Browne is a former member of the club, and at the dinner this evening will be the guest of honor. The man who can secure an invitation to the Portsmouth Yacht Club for this evening will have as enjoyable an evening as he could find in a month's travel.

An illuminated boat parade will be held under the auspices of the club Tuesday evening, Aug. 24 and the affair will exceed any such novelty ever held on the water front.

The parade is open to all and is not restricted to members of the club. Any person having a boat may enter and the officers of the club respectfully urge the boat owners to send in their names.

This is to be made an annual affair and all remember the successful parade of last year. Suitable prizes have been bought for the occasion and are now displayed in the window of William P. Robinson's jewelry store.

All owners of boats wishing to enter may apply at the yacht. The night of the race, between the hours of 7 and 8 those entering will receive numbers and will then, at the stroke of 8, follow the committee boat over the course.

The judges of the parade are Jackson M. Washburn, Rear Commodore Charles S. Browne and Charles Smith.

GERMAN DEPUTY SENTENCED FOR TREASON RUSSIANS CARRIED OFF 1800 PIANOS

Berlin, August 17—Prof. Dr. Broglie, a teacher of the high school of Muelhausen and member of the diet of Alsace-Lorraine, has been convicted of treason and a sentence of ten years imprisonment by a court martial at Freiburg, Baden. When the French captured Muelhausen last fall the deputy, who belonged to the anti-German faction of the Abbe Wetterle, headed the committee which greeted the French soldiers as liberators. Later he fled to France but was captured when he returned recently in disguise to visit his wife.

The preparations for the Hampton Beach Carnival are going forward rapidly, but it won't be in for a minute with the fair that the Southern New Hampshire Agricultural Association is preparing for you for Sept. 6-7-8 at Rockingham Park.

Another week of the school vacation is almost gone. The small boy is anxious for the season to open as he ever was.

Vienna, August 4—A correspondent of the Tagespost reports that the Russians carried off 1800 pianos when they were driven from Lemberg. They also cleaned out ten thousand houses completely. Immense quantities of furniture were sent across the border on special trains.

YOUNG OFFICER TAKES 1500 PRISONERS

Berlin, August 18—One of the heroes of the campaign in Poland is Lieut. Whittier of the 59th German infantry. The young officer has just been awarded the Iron Cross of the first class for exceptional bravery.

While scouting with a small party near Hindem the lieutenant lost his way in a heavy fog. Suddenly he found himself before an advanced post of the Russian line. Fortunately the Russians did not notice him and his companions. The Russians were quickly killed but a few moments later a murderous flank fire greeted the little band of Germans and two of them fell. The fire came from a Russian trench about 100 meters distant. As the German detachment had no covering it seemed lost, but the lieutenant acted quickly. At the head of his men he started to storm the trench. The attack was a complete success. The Russians were so surprised at the daring assault that 400 of them surrendered.

From the conquered trench the lieutenant and his detachment advanced further. They finally succeeded in rolling up the whole position of the enemy and made 1,000 more prisoners. During the battle only two of the Germans were killed and five wounded. The companions of the lieutenant have all been decorated with the Iron Cross of the second class.

A WOMAN JUDGE IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18—A woman judge in the county superior court will be appointed in the near future by the civil service commission. The position will be the first of its kind created in California, if not in the United States.

Action of the county follows closely that of the city in placing Mrs. Aletha Gilbert in the office of "City Mother," where she is at the service of troubled parents and erring or ignorant girls.

The woman judge will be known as a referee. Her findings will be in the nature of recommendations to juvenile judge Sidney N. Reeves. She will hear virtually all cases involving women defendants and juvenile offenders.

A civil service examination will be held to create a list of eligibles for the position. Only those women who have been admitted to the bar of California, and who have had experience in probation work will be considered as qualified to take the test. If the office fills the sphere intended it is expected that similar positions will be created for women in every county where they are allowed to hold public office.

BALDWIN ON INTERNATIONAL LAW CHANGES

Salt Lake City, Aug. 18.—Speaking here this evening before the meeting of the American Bar Association, Simon E. Baldwin, ex-governor of Connecticut, called attention to the analogies in history to the British and German war zones and described the United States as taking a consistent position against any such limitation of the rights of neutrals on the high seas.

"No form of human law," he continued, "can endure which is not capable of amendment. To the law of nations change comes slowly, for it must be the act of many different peoples. It will change irregularly and in detachments. Macaulay has observed that there are in the administration of government two kinds of wisdom: The highest wisdom, which is conversant with great principles of political philosophy, and a lower wisdom, which meets daily exigencies by daily expedients."

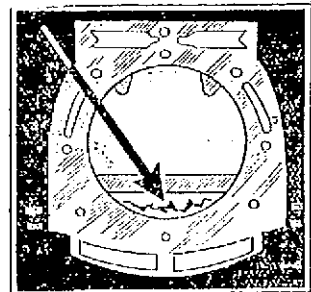

"In respect to the development and application of international law, these two kinds of wisdom often come in conflict, and when they do, it is seldom the higher that controls. Nations are self-centered. Each views rules of international conduct mainly as it is itself, at the time being, affected by them."

"And back of all, at all times, we must reckon with the impulses of self-preservation. In the eloquent words of our late associate, Frederick R. Conder, 'Self-protection and self-preservation constitute the corner-stone of modern international law. This instinct is as strong in communities as in individuals and will, when aroused by real or imaginary perils, sweep away forms and law, as worthless incumbrances, if they interfere with their first duty and most valuable right, the duty to resist aggression, and the right to life.'"

CHINESE VICE PRESIDENT LASHES HIS COUNTRYMEN

Shanghai, Aug. 18.—The perfect clearness and frankness with which Chinese leaders recognize the pitiful figure their vast country has cut on the world stage this year is the most pathetic part of the situation. One cannot help but admire the unblinking way the facts are met.

There are many brave efforts being made to reverse the sleeping giant, too. The old chronic indifference is still widespread, but here and there a change is to be noted.

At Peking a scheme for waking up the country has been inaugurated in the Chinese Itinerant Lecturers' Association. This proposes to send out traveling parties of speakers to educate the people of China.

Li Yuan-hung, vice president of the republic, pens the following severe strictures on his countrymen in a preface to the regulations of the new society.

"Our country," says the Vice President, "has up to the present lived in sublime ignorance. The people have assumed a self-satisfied attitude; the classes, in their calm seclusion, and the masses taken up with their rude pleasures, have been in total ignorance of what a nation means."

"In the face of defeats by Japan on the East, humiliation at the hands of France in the South, and the shame inflicted by mighty Russia, the credulous people foolishly went in for western civilization, adopting customs that had been in existence among foreigners for hundreds of years, but verily marring the foot to fit the shoe, with the result that there has been evolved a lawless equality and an unbridled liberty. Blindly they rave and rant, having no settled convictions."

"If you wish to find a man with sincere patriotism, fearless public spirit, military efficiency, or the educational attainments of a foreigner, you will have difficulty in discovering one in a thousand."

"The relationship of father and son, husband and wife, brother and friend, and the virtues of love, honesty, propriety, and modesty, are now regarded as of little consequence."

"The tendency today is for the people to descend to the level of brutes, and to regard degeneration with complacency. The poison was rampant in the closing days of the Ching Dynasty, but since the establishment of the republic it has been decidedly on the increase."

"The vice president follows up this severe indictment by declaring the utter failure of republicanism to cure the country of the evils from which it suffered before the Manchu downfall. Ceaseless internal disorders and foreign complications have marked the three years of the republic, and he adds:

"Those who are concerned about the approaching dissolution of the nation without exception ascribe the present state of affairs to the non-extermination of bandits, a floating refugee population, a tangle of national finance, and the failure of all official plans for amelioration."

"The writer, however, declares his faith in the 'illustrious people' whose natural disposition is in the direction of 'virtuous excellence.'"

In Shanghai a few merchants have banded together with the object of creating what is described as a "National Salvation Fund," the aim being to collect 10,000,000 and apply it to the reformation of the army and navy and to "various industrial enterprises"—a program for which the proposed subscription is, of course, entirely inadequate. However, about $2,500,000 have actually been subscribed and the promoters of the fund say that another $2,500,000 has been promised.

Another party of ardent reformers have started a National Mutual Help Society, with the object of carrying a program of education and industrial reform into every village and city in China.

SOLDIERS BECOME STUDENTS

Berlin, August 18.—The German Land-sturm troops in Belgium are making very good use of their leisure time, they are furnishing a new example of German industry and thoroughness. By order of the military authorities educational courses have been established for them. Every battalion has a school commission composed of representatives of the different companies. The members of these commissions are college and high school professors and teachers of the public schools who have been called to the colors.

The courses have been established for some time and are largely attended by the soldiers. The instruction comprises languages (French and Flemish) bookkeeping, stenography, arithmetic and algebra, grammar, history, economics and civics.

Battalions which consist mostly of farmers have slightly different curriculum. The soldiers of these battalions are instructed in agriculture, bookkeeping, physics and chemistry, penmanship, history, geography and economics.

The text books and other materials for the field schools are furnished by the Duerer Society, the Society for the Propagation of popular education and the Poet's Foundation of Hamburg.

THE WAY TO KEEP COOL

There is no better way of passing the hot days than by taking a sail on the finely equipped steamer Juliette to the Isles of Shoals. A few hours on Star Island will do you and your family much good. You can take your luncheon along with you, or better still, lunch is served at a moderate cost at the Oceanic Hotel. If you are planning on entertaining guests there is no better way than by giving them a trip to these historic islands. There is no place where you can obtain so much for your money than by buying a round trip ticket at 50c.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF BIRTHDAY

Members of Eureka Whist
Club Guests of Mrs. Harry
E. Trafton.

In honor of her birthday, Mrs. Harry E. Trafton of Cabot street entertained the members of the Eureka Whist Club and a few invited guests on Wednesday afternoon. The affair was prettily conceived and took the nature of a garage party, the garage being attractively decorated with ferns, golden glow, and golden rod. For two hours the party enjoyed whist. At the conclusion of play favors were awarded by the hostess as follows: First, to Mrs. John C. Shaw; second, to Mrs. Arthur Smith. The consolation fell to Mrs. Walter Brown. Fruit punch was served during the game. Light refreshments of pineapple sherbert and fancy cookies were served. A pleasant surprise took place, when Mrs. Herbert Seavey in behalf of those present, presented Mrs. Trafton with a half dozen silver fruit knives, a half dozen silver dinner knives and a handsomely frosted birthday cake with her name and age lettered on the same. The affair was greatly enjoyed by all present and as the guests took their departure, they wished Mrs. Trafton many happy returns of the day.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Man Hanging to Hand Rail of Car Strikes Switch Stand
at Newburyport.

While hanging to the hand rail of the baggage car of train No. 102 known as the Flying Yankee, John T. Twomey of Newburyport, had a narrow escape from death when he struck against a switch stand just outside the Newburyport depot. The peculiar part of the affair was that two companions alighted from the train, and picked him up and carried him to parts unknown.

It is thought that the three young men boarded the train as it was starting out of the depot and when the point was reached where the accident occurred they evidently saw the conductor coming and attempted to get off. The contact with the switch swung him safely, as it was learned later that outside of a few cuts and bruises he escaped what might have resulted in instant death.

A search was made but no one was found, the only evidence being that the rod at the top of the switch was bent completely over.

COLONIAL MAIDS TO HEAD BILL AT THE PORTSMOUTH

ONE OF THE FINEST ACTS IN VAUDEVILLE HERE FOR THREE DAYS

The big act at the Portsmouth Theatre for the last three days of this week is the Colonial Maids, "The Classic" minstrel act in vaudeville. The Colonial Maids is perhaps the best-dressed act on the big circuit today—bar none. Every number that they will present for your amusement will be a little better than anything that you have seen for a long time. There are nine artists in the troupe, all singers of note and they will offer sufficient comedy with their other numbers to please all. The Colonial Maids have been filling all the big houses where they have played since they started their tour early in the season.

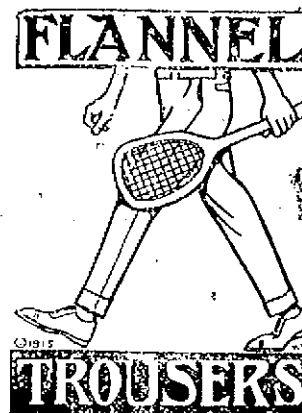

Another big act is that presented by the Three Zecks. This is a sensational aerial turn composed of two men and a woman. Their act is truly a remarkable aerial turn on rings, trapeze and other special apparatus. They execute their difficult feats with an ease and precision that stamps them the true athletes.

The third act offered is a good single, Charles Doyle in character comedy songs and recitations that is a little different than the usual run of single acts.

VETERANS OFF EARLY.

A NEW RACE DEVELOPING

The struggle for equal suffrage has done much to help women throw off their mental bondage. It has kindled in their hearts a great spirit of rebellion against their subjection. It has developed a self-respect for their sex, unknown before. On all hands one hears it said: "A new race of women is developing before our eyes—a type which has discarded the old ideal of physical, and mental, and moral dependence, and has substituted the ideal of strength."
